BEASBORE AND MOUNTAINS ENTICING CITY FOLKS FROM HOME.

Sewport Shapkrepers Say an Era of Ressoury has Dawned-! un and Recreation at Many Nated Scents-Prospects of the Senson. NEWPORT, July 25 .- The season is a poor one. There is an average number of cottagers in Rewnort, but their style of living has suggested that 1385 is likely to be known as "economy season." The boatmen who a year ago at this time were doing a ten dollar a day business legiare that they consider themselves for tunate if they can get together one-fifth of that amount in twenty-four hours. The aummer visitors are cutting down expenses in every conceivable way, and the business at the Casino clearly shows it. Those who formerly did not besitate to curchase a season ticket at $25 now attend only one dauce a week - Monday even-ings-for which they pay a dollar, and this will save about fifteen dollars during the season.

If a man gives a dinner to a half dezen it is called a party. In many respects, however, one would never be able to discover that this is the most economically conducted season that has been experienced here in twolve years. The equipmess are an handsome as ever. The horses are more than ordinarily attractive and between last year and this in the meat conto $100 a day on the wrong side. The branch businesses are doing next to nothing, but are maintaining their establishments but are maintaining their extensionments just to keep up appearances. The hotels, too, report business rather quiet, which is unusual for the last Saturday in July. The Casino hops have not been nearly so well attended as in previous years. The cottagers themselves do not hesitate to say that things are socially dull. During the present month Mrs. John N. A. Oriswold has had Saturday receptions, and Mrs. C. N. Beach has had receptions on Mon-days, but with these exceptions there have been no gatherings where the guests have been numerous. The weather for several days has been so intensely hot as to make everybody absolutery indifferent to most amusements. Hopes are entertained that during August there will be some life, but the fact that "the meets" will not occur as usual will have a teadency to keep things dull.

BREEZES AT NARRAGANSETT PIER. RARRAGASSETT PIER, July 25.—The score of hotels here are having a fairly prosperous season. The number of bathers at the beach increases daily, and there is swery prospect that when the first chilly breezes in September hasten the departure of the guests the hotel men will find they have something left to buy their winter cost with. Early in the summer there was a preity poor outlook here. Very few apartments had been let for the season. But when Juse openelicapels began to drop in until to-day there is a very fair crowd here. Marraganest Pier has always been a very attractive place to ci-raymen and army and navy people. Representatives N these three professions are here by the searces. The heat, which has been greatly in the Pier patrons in immoderate quantities lately, has not proved overpowering, here by the series. The heat, which has been served up to the Pier pairons in immoderate quantities lately, has not proved overpowering, except during the afternoons, and as nearly everybody slumbers here after the 2-o'clock dinner, it doesn't matter much. The evenings, however, are delightful.

Testerday and to-day the arrivals have been quite heavy, and to-day the arrivals have been quite heavy, and to-day the many of the hotel prorietors say that while things might be better, they might too, be infinitely worse. At the Mount Hope, Mathewaon, Massasoit, Revers, Metatoxet, Atlantic, Emwood, Delavan, Atwood and McSparrow houses this evening there are many new guests. The Casino is being well patronized. It is not so exclusive as its Newport mamesake, but at the same time some of the best peach; in the country are subsome of the best people in the country are sub-scribers to it. The dances at the Casino are thoroughly enjoyable. On Thursday Mr. William R. Travers stepped off his yacht Fanny. He did not appear to be in robust health. He want to Newbort the same day. The excitement of the week here after the report of tien. Grant's death has been the announcement of the marriage of young Willie Spraxue, son of ex-Gov. Sprague, to his stepmo her's sister. A large number of the hide have let many rooms for August, and it would not be surprising, therefore, if the last month in summer proved to be a remarkably good one.

SARATOGA.

Saratoga. July 25.—The exalted altitude of the mercury throughout the country during the past week has tended to greatly increase the number of Saratoga's guests, who now may be counted by the thousands and the probabilities are tat the season will extend further into the month of September than heretofore. The crowd of guests far exceeds that of the corresponding week has season. The proprietors of several of the leading hotels say that, canadering the hotel, the usual proportion of these having summer leisure are exporing Saratoga's mineral fountsing of heavy in Saratoga's arries very early in the season and generally remain til the frosts of autumn turn the follage to solden buss. Some people may thick that Saravoga life is not so brilliant as formerly because the numbers attending the hops appear to be smaller. The fact is that the summer guests do not enter into this pastime as in past years. They come here for rest and quiet, and attend assiduously to the business of recuperation.

Republican State Conventions being called for this place about the middle of September.

LONG BRANCH, July 25.—This is a crowded shore on Saturday night, from Seabright through Long Branch down to Tom's River.

The heat of the week has inclined so many city people to a Sunday by the seasoner that even those hotels which had been nearly empty are now well inhabited, while those which feel a dull season only in a moderation of prosperity are so jammed that the old-time exceediant of cots in other than bedrooms is resorted to. There are two principal points of divelinees this evening—the West End neighborhood and the immediate vicinity of the pler. This has been a race day, and the turfinen, added to the thousantabrough here by the excursion streamboats have all the afternoon and evening througed he restaurants, the gambling houses, the pool pooms, and the heer gardens near the pler. The remeant of the Mansion house left by a last winter's fire is now a next of tricky gambling and carles nonny devices, to which the ricims are astoundingly numerous. The sumbor of gaming establishments ranging in quality from the awent layout to the most forgoous of the clube, have doubled in number since a year ago, and their business is onlinely to the gambler.

The arrivals the past week have been quite iares, though there has been no rush. The easyon cannot be said to be quite up to last year, though it is believed it is much better here than at most resorts. People who once came to Bichfield are certain to return. The sanitary condition of the place is perfect, and $40,000 have been expended here this year in new sewers and additional water supplies.

There are how here many prominent people from all parts of the Union, and many elegant turnouts, chiefly from New York, are seen in the streets. The drives are many and superb, and through a beautiful country of lake, hill and dale. A fine orchestra plays alternately at the Spring House and New American. In the evening hops, balls and concerts serve to pass the time pleasantly, and all tastes are gratified.

SUMMER LIPS IN THE CATERILES.

KINGSTON, July 25.—What the season will be among the CateRills is yet a connedrum. With tew exceptions the landlords of the leading resorts are gravily disappointed with the outlook. When a few weeks ago the hotels were comparatively empty the cool, backward season was assigned as the cause, and the approach of warm weather was anzieusly looked forward to. It came, but the expected rush of tourists to the CateRills did not come with it. Every day to be sure brought additional guests to the resorts among the mountains from the humble farm house to the first-class mountain instead with the or contentment to linumine the The intense based the past week, however, has shewn a large increase in the floating population of this region. The railway stations and steamboat landings in this city and CateRill present busy scenes. Still the more prominent hotels are far from having their customary quots of guests at this time in the season. Every year scores of new hotes and loarding houses spring up, each of which steadily draws from the patronage of the larger latest, ity far the greater part of the gayety of other summer resorts.

CROWDS GOING TO LONG BEACH.

"The heat has had a great effect on travel to the summer resorts along our road," said one of the agents of the Long Island Railroad to a reporter yesierday. "Manhattan Beach and Far Rockaway have had the greatest share of It, although people have scattered a great deal. All the pleasant resorts, both inland and on the shore, within an hour's ride of New York, are overrun with people of a Sunday who want to enjoy themselves in a quiet way. Families and parties often go down to a place like Woodside, where they can go into the woods and be alone. "Far Rockaway is much more p-pular this year than inst. Of course, people who go there or to Long Beach are mostly people who intend to stay for a time.

We have from 5.00 to 6.000 neous here on Sunday.

"When I say that we have 600 people in the house, I mean that there is that number heroright along. But they change all the while. People will stay in the mountains for four weeks and then come here, or vice versa. A great many people come here who are in the city on business during the day and spend only their nights and Sundays here. These are mostly married men, whose families are here, and many of them who used to remain in town at the clubs have been driven to de this by the intense heat this summer."

SAN DOMINGO'S RAILROAD. PROPOSING TO COLONIER THE RICH

LANDS OF THE REPUBLIC The Propin Have Abandoned Politics and All

Very soon, unless several gentlemen are badly mistaken, San Domingo will have its first railroad, and the inhabitants will enjoy the novel sensation of being waked by a loco-motive roaring and whistling across their land. The idea of opening up the resources of the island by this means was souceived by American capitalists over twenty years ago, and has been revived at various times since. But no energetic action was taken until three years ago, when the scheme was taken hold of by Alexander Baird, a wealthy Scotchman, backed by a few friends. Mr. Baird, who stopped for a few days in this city on his way to England, told about the enterprise, and how it was to be carried out.

"The idea always was," said he, "to run the road from Samana Bay up through La Vega Real, a beautiful wide valley, containing the richest land in San Domingo. But at the end of the bay the land is low and swampy, and it was necessary, first of all, to construct the road over a vite much the miles across, over which a child the state of the land of the land over a vite march other and the state of the land over a vite march other and the state of the road of the success of the richas. But we are now beyond that spot, and have got forty miles of line succeed, our plant all comes from America, to which the commorce of the country naturally belongs, the only thing that we bring from England being the steel raile. By saring we hope to have traile opened as far as La Vega de la Concepcione, an inkind town sixtylive miles up the valley. From there we shall road the road to Steel and the second will be about eight of the state of the country and will partly fellow the course of the Yunaileer, which flows through the valley. When it is finished I believe the United States will partly fellow the course of the Yunaileer, which flows through the valley is the flow of the country, as they started to do under Grant. The valley, which fixed popened up to commerce, is certainly the fifthest in the West Indies and in building the road we had so thought but for the agricultural resources of the country. All this talk about gold and sliver and immense forcats of pitch pine is massase. There are no such things on the island, but there is much letter. Even now that valley exports 6,000 tons of tobacco a year road of the road when be seen to fine also, and then grain substituted from the production of cocca and sugar cane, to the cultivation of which the valley is wonderfully well adapted. The grazing land is fine, also, and then grain so land in the West Indies better suited to raising eathe than the 1,000 square miles of the valley and the read of the co road from Samana Bay up through La Vega Real, a beautiful wide valley, containing the

"As far as the question of health is concerned people make a great mistake who think of San Domingo as a piace like the Isthmus of Panama, or those death traps. It is altogether different. I five there, and I look all right, don't 1? Fren the turning up of the soil, as we have been obliged to do it, has caused no nutbreak of fever, or other dangerous disease, and our laborers, imported from this country and Europe, have suffered nothing worse then slight doses of chins—asthmus compared to what they would have to stand if they went to work in a swamp over in your State of New Jersey. We are going to have emigrants from here and abroad to settle in the valley and you can be sure that the valley will become known, and that they will become rich. No sir there is no stock in the road. I are building it with some friends, and we haven't even given ourselves any name or corporation title. We think there is money to be increasity madeout of our subscription, and then mean to make it, and have it for ourselves."

When Mr. Baird had told his part of the story another gentium, also from San Deminizo, told something not so pleasing to this country. "You ought," said he, "In your maper to tell something of the above included way in which this country is represented it San Domingo. The fact is, the country but represented at all, and an American, maless he has wealth with which to command respect, is treated like a beast. The very worst flag you can fly on the Island is the American flag, and that when the pince is full of Americans and American capital. Why, look how they shot down this poor American Carsenter Platt. I knew him well, and a nice little man he was, too, as good a fellow as you would care to caset. The republic went hunting for Carsarce through San Domingo, and tracked him to a hotel. Platt was writing in his room, and put his head out of the door to see what all the noise was about. Cacesareo's pursuers take him for the man they want and riddle him with but lett. THE PERRETLYANIA STRDICATE SATS

PRILADELPHIA, July 25 .- The members of the South Pennsylvania syndicate who live in this city are very indignant over the treatment they have received at the hands of Mr. Vander-bilt. Mr. Twombly's statement to them in New York on Friday that Mr. Vanderbilt was pre-pared to close out his interest in the South Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a guaranforward on the money already expended, was the first official notice they had received that the road was to be abandoned. As soon as the meeting of the syndicate broke up in New York the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh members cabled for advice to Franklin B. Gowen, who subscribed $100,000 to the syndicate, and to Andrew Carnegie, who subscribed and to Andrew Carnegle, who subscribed $1,000,000. Both those men are in Europe Under the expectation that answers would be received before noon to-day a meet-ing was called to take place at 1 P. M. Those present were George De B. Keim, E. C. Knight, Henry Lewis, T. V. Williamson, Silas A ARMEN, HORDY ADDRESS AND THE ANSWERS and First active stream of Section 1997, at 17th avenue and first active stream of Section 1997, at 110 areas and first active stream of the Section 1997, and the W. Pettit of this city, and Dr. Hostetter of Pittsburgh. The subject was talked over fully and the gentlemen were unanimous in opposition to the scheme; but as Mr. Carnagie and Mr.

PROF. HILGARD'S DISMISSAG

He Demands an Investigation of his Mans WASHINGTON, July 25 .- Prof. Hilgard said to-day, concerning his suspension from the superintendency of the Coast Survey, that if ages, and, after having a great time, got | his office was wanted he could stand a dismis sal without murmuring, but he objected to going out under a cloud, with charges of irregularities which had no foundation. The books larities which had no foundation. The books and records of his office, he said, would speak for themselves, and he was willing to abide by the result of a thorough investigation.

Frof. Hilgard said that in June inst he received a communication from the First Anditor saying that charges of irregularities had been made against the management of the Coast Survey. These charges included the payment of salaries to persons who performed no services; allowing unnecessary travelling expenses to those connected with the Survey for the benefit of their families, and unnecessary expenditure of money appropriated for the maintenance of the Coast Survey. No instances of the alleged irregularities were cited. Prof. Hilgard replied, indignantly denying the received no reply until he was informed of his auspension from office yesterday.

COLOMBIA'S CIVIL WAR A Drawn Hatile at Calamar-The Rebels Retire in Good Order.

PANAMA, July 17 .- The last battle of Calamar, reported to be a Government success, was not so. The slaughter was nearly equal on both sides, and the revolutionists who the attack, retired in good order to their steamers. They are still in strong force opposite the Government position at Calamar, and occasionally amuse themselves with a little artillery practice on the Government camp.

There is much sickness in the Government camp at Calamar and in Carthagena, and the losses by disease are more serious than those inflicted in battle. Both armins are suffering severely in this respect.

The official report of the battle of Calamar, on July 1, says:

The enemy disembarked on July 1 in Barranca, empioning their seven sleamers, and then cut the telegraph inc. Afterward the stanners proceeded to take a see in order of battle. Artillers fire was opened from both sides, and afterward the infanty opened for because the enemy established a line of saminishers on the is and in front of this point. The fight latted dive hours.
